EMPLOYEE PROFILE

DAN BLOCK

Executive Vice President

Dan has been with MFC for over 31 years, starting back in 1990. "After spending a number of years working for Cray Research installing and troubleshooting supercomputers, the luster of working for a large company quickly wore off. Metal Forms had a field sales position available where I could utilize my hands-on skills while having an opportunity to work for a well-established, family run company."

Dan's main focus as the Executive Vice President is to work with sales, engineering and manufacturing to ensure accuracy and efficiency of both our stock and custom-made products. Continually evaluating product offerings, customer experience and profitability.

When Dan was asked what he enjoys most about working at MFC he states, "The relationships built with customers over the years is one of the most rewarding aspects of my job. Over time you realize the construction industry is a down to earth and hard-working group of people. In our capacity, we get to experience first-hand the close relationship between manufacturer, distributor and end user." In addition he commented that "We have a hardworking group of people at MFC with a lighthearted spirit that makes this truly a dream job."

When Dan is not in the office, he enjoys hopping on his road bike (goal of completing a 100-mile ride every couple years). He also enjoys hunting and fishing along with home remodeling projects.

Dan and his wife have two children (son 23 and daughter 21) and "following the tragic loss of our goldfish, Viking, a number of years ago we are happily a pet-free house."
